Hello!

My mission is to help leaders realize their full potential. Coaching comes naturally to me, and I'm passionate about assisting business leaders in overcoming seemingly insurmountable challenges. I excel when I'm helping to unblock difficult situations.

Throughout my career, I've had the privilege of advising numerous business leaders across various sectors. Holding senior management positions with listed companies in the mining sector and serving as president and board member of several organizations has equipped me with diverse experiences. This enables me not only to approach human and financial issues from various angles but also to anticipate them and propose organizational changes. Additionally, I've conducted financings across North America, Latin America, Europe, and Asia in my role as CEO. I'm known for my ability to rise to the challenge of transforming organizations both financially and culturally, whether in a context of slowdown or growth.

With my in-depth understanding of organizational leadership, I aim to inspire business leaders and their teams to leverage collective intelligence for personal and professional success. My tenure as a CEO has made me acutely aware of the emotional and professional isolation experienced by leaders. I firmly believe that having a trusted group of individuals who can offer support during difficult times brings immeasurable value to an isolated leader.

On a personal note, I hold a CPA designation and specialize in organizational transformation. I'm also a speaker and author of two books on human behavior in personal finance and investing. Beyond my professional pursuits, I find joy in marathon and trail running, and I'm fluent in French, English, and Spanish. Moreover, I'm an enthusiast of wine, travel, and nature.

My TEC Group Vision

To bring together on a monthly basis, in an environment of trust and confidentiality, a team of leaders who want to go faster and further than they ever imagined possible.
