TEC CEO Chair
Calgary, AB

Hello!

With over 25 years of experience advising CEOs, small business owners, and leaders of large enterprises, I have helped individuals and organizations make remarkable impacts nationwide. Now, with a broad range of expertise, I have chosen to become a TEC Chair to share my knowledge and embark on a meaningful journey.

My notable career at PwC Canada began in 1985, a two year secondment to the UK and returning to Canada and becoming a partner in 1996 in London, Ontario. Moving to Calgary in 2005, I led the Private Company Services team for Alberta and served as PwC's Leader for Real Estate Services. I specialized in financial reporting, accounting, tax, and supporting businesses in addressing operational and financial reporting issues. My client work spanned cities across Canada and the UK. I also served on the Board of PwC for eight years, contributing to various committees, which enhanced my understanding of governance and operational growth.

While a partner, I interacted with TEC members who were my clients at PwC, seeing firsthand how TEC membership empowers CEOs. Upon retiring from PwC as an active partner, I wanted to continue that interaction with CEOs and businesses which drew me to TEC. As a TEC Chair, I am passionate about working with CEOs, helping them grow personally and professionally alongside high-performing peers.

Personally, I live in Calgary with my wife and four adult children. I enjoy golfing, skiing, and playing hockey. I am a Chartered Professional Accountant with a MACC and BA (Hons) from the University of Waterloo and hold the Institute of Corporate Directors Director designation (ICD.D).

My TEC Group Vision

Our experienced peer group is the optimal space to give and benefit from unbiased advice in a confidential environment. Our collective leadership experience and mentorship styles come together to help each other exceed our goals, and continue gaining new insights in the pursuit of personal and professional evolution.
