TEC Key Chair
St. Catharines, ON

Hello!

As a TEC Chair, I draw on 22 years of experience as the CEO of Skycomp Solutions, where I grew a one-person tech startup into a thriving company of over 35 team members. My career has been built on helping people leverage technology to solve business challenges, and along the way I’ve learned that the best insights often come from peers. I regularly meet with fellow business owners to discuss not just IT issues but broader strategies, leadership hurdles, and growth opportunities. These rich conversations—and my own experience in peer advisory groups—have reinforced my belief in the power of collaborative learning. I’m passionate about sharing hard-won lessons, asking the tough questions, and fostering an open, supportive dialogue that helps others succeed.

My TEC Group Vision

My vision for our TEC group is to cultivate a community of engaged, growth-oriented business leaders who inspire and challenge each other. I believe the ideal member is an owner or executive driven to learn continuously, deeply connected to their community, and committed to giving back. Company size isn’t as important as mindset and generosity. Together, we will build a peer group where like-minded leaders share insights, tackle challenges, and achieve their goals together in a supportive, dynamic environment.

Personal

On a personal note, I have been married for over 20 years and am the proud father of four children. We love traveling as a family whenever possible. I stay active by refereeing ice hockey and scuba diving when I can. I’m also deeply involved in my community: I serve on the board of the Greater Niagara Chamber of Commerce (GNCC) and volunteer in leadership roles with major rowing events as the Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta and a committee chair for the Canadian Secondary Schools Rowing Association. Additionally, I’m a long-standing Rotary member and a past chair of the St. Catharines Rotary Ribfest. These experiences outside of work keep me grounded, community-focused, and constantly learning—qualities I bring to my role as a mentor and TEC Chair.
